

This is an important message from Link Recruitment: New laws, acting in the interest of the individual, require firms to be more transparent about how they process your data. We would like to request consent to hold your personal data.

We are retained by organisations to identify and place individuals into new employment opportunities. We have identified you as an individual that could be of interest to our clients.

We take your privacy very seriously and in order for us to keep you informed about relevant opportunities, we request your consent to [continue to] hold your personal data. If you would like to know more about current suitable opportunities, then please contact us on 01228 550181.

If you do not formally provide consent by completing this process, we will be legally obliged to remove you from our database and can no longer put you forward for such opportunities.

We hope you allow us to hold your data and look forward to establishing a professional and prosperous relationship with you. To aid this process, and make it as clear for you as possible, please review your options below.
